In the space below, produce a basic sketch of your route, the stops, and major features.

This page can be printed out in advance of heading outside, or you can recreate it by hand on lined or blank paper that you have on hand. This is your “field notes” and must be handed in along with your Google Earth KML file. You must not rewrite these notes. You need to photograph or scan this page as it looked when you returned inside and include it in your submission for this exercise.
